CHAPTER V

WHAT ARE YOU DOING?

Pendahuluan

Bahasa merupakan alat komunikasi antar komunikan dan komunikator. Dengan bahasa, kita dapat menyampaikan apa yang kita rasakan dan hal yang kita sedang lakukan. Melalui kegiatan ini diharapkan mahasiswa mampu mengasah kemampuan berdialog dengan bahasa Inggris dan menerapkan dikehidupan sehari-hari walaupun hanya sedikit.

Kegiatan Belajar

1. Reading and Vocabulary

Visiting Grandparents

Today, Chiya is visiting her grandparents. She loves cooking with her grandmother. Her grandma usually teaches her how to cook delicious dishes. At this moment, Chiya is learning how to make tasty chicken soup. Chiya is helping to cut some onions, chilies, carrots, potatoes and other vegetables. She is also writing her grandmother's recipe. She plans to make chicken soup at home next Monday. She is making the chicken soup for her mother. Next Monday is her mother's birthday.

An hour later, Chiya and grandparents have finished eating chicken soup. Now, Chiya is listening to her grandfather's story. Chiya also loves listening to her grandpa's story.

Her grandpa has many stories about life, joke, culture and many more. Now, Chiya with grandmother are listening to one story of The Arabian Nights (1001 nights). They're enjoying their time together.

Information!

a. Definition

b. Social Function

The present progressive or continuous shows an activity that is happening right now. The action is happening by the time the person is speaking. The action started in the past, is happening now, and probably will continue in the future.

Instructions!

a. Working in pairs. Ask your friend to read the passage for you and try to understand as much as you can at the first hearing.
b. Individually, read the text above silently and try to understand the complete story.

2. Language Features

The structure of the Present Continuous tense is;

subject	+	auxiliary be	+	main verb
		conjugated in Present Simple
		am, are, is		present participle (-ing)

The auxiliary verb (be) is conjugated in the Present Simple: am, are, is

The main verb is invariable in present participle form: -ing

For negative sentences we insert not between the auxiliary verb and the main verb.

For question sentences, we exchange the subject and the auxiliary verb.

Look at these example sentences with the Present Continuous tense:

	subject	auxiliary verb		main verb
+	I	am		speaking	to you.
+	You	are		reading	this.
-	She	is	not	staying	in London.

	subject	auxiliary verb		main verb
-	We	are	not	playing	football.
?	Is	he		watching	TV?
?	Are	they		waiting	for John?

How do we use Present Progressive Tense?

We use Present Progressive Tense to talk about;

- Action happening now
- Action in the future

3. Speaking

Dialogue 1

Richard Gordon and Herbert Spellman meet at the bar called the Lilac Time.

Spellman : Aren't you Richard Gordon?

Gordon : Yes.

Spellman : I'm Herbert Spellman. We met at the party in Brooklyn one time, I believe.

Gordon : Maybe. Why not?

Spellman : I liked your last book very much. I liked them all.

Gordon : I'm glad… What are you doing now?

Spellman : Not much. I get around a little. I'm taking it sort of easy now. Are you writing a new book?

Gordon : Yes. About half done.

Spellman : That's great. What's it about?

Gordon : A strike in a textile plant.

Spellman : That's marvellous.

Instructions!

a. Working in pair. Practice the dialogue with your class-mate!
b. Try to make your dialogue with your friends and practice in front of your friends!

4. Writing

Information

When you use Present Progressive Tense?

- Things that are happening now

  You can use the present continuous to describe immediate events taking place in the current moment:

  Eg. “She is eating dinner right now and cannot answer the phone.”

  You can also use it in the same way for the negative form:

  Eg. “They’re not watching TV at the moment.”

- Temporary events

  For longer actions that may be taking place for a temporary period only, you can use the present continuous tense to describe them. It can be used for any temporary situation, no matter how long or short it is.

  Eg. “He’s studying a new language at the moment.”

- A new pattern or habit

  A really interesting way of using the present continuous tense is to describe events or actions that are new and different from events in the past. In this case, the tense can be used to highlight the contrast between the old and new.

  Eg. “These days, people are writing emails a lot less than they used to a few years ago.”

  It can also be used to describe a regular habit that someone has – whether it is a good habit, or a bad one!

  Eg. “You’re always running late with all your deadlines!”

- Future plans

  When describing something that will take place in the future, the present continuous tense can be used when you are discussing something that is already discussed or planned ahead.

Eg. “When we arrive at the airport, we are taking a private car direct to the hotel.”
